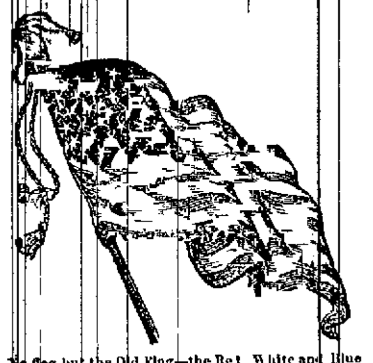
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY



No flag but the Old Flag—the Red White and Blue
With the stars of the Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

THURSDAY MORNING JAN 9 1862.

Condemned out of its own Mouth

"We believe that in certain acts the South were wrong but so far as resistance to the entire doctrine of the Republican party is concerned, we blame them not—understand us, we blame them not"—Advertiser.

We are thus informed that in certain acts the South were wrong What those acts were we have never been told by the Advertiser, and the admission is in general terms, and means nothing In the whole editorial course of the Advertiser, while under the secession flag, it has never specifically admitted that the secessionists were wrong On the contrary, upon all their outrages—their war upon the government—their robberies of the public property—their attempts to take forcible possession of the Capital and drive the constitutional authorities from thence—the Advertiser has never complained, and, on the contrary, when disasters have befallen our arms, every man in Portland knows that the editor of that paper and his co-editors have rejoiced at these events These are facts which are known of all men Benjamin Stark, one of these co editors, was in the habit of going upon our streets, and in our saloons, and publicly expressing his joy when the flag of the country was dishonored So much for this remark "We believe that in certain acts the South were wrong"

After uttering the little, miserable proviso we have quoted, the Advertiser says "But so far as resistance to the entire doctrine of the Republican party is concerned, we blame them not—understand us, WE BLAME THEM NOT" What is meant here? Surely the Advertiser does not intend to rely so much upon the ignorance of his readers as to assert that this rebellion was inaugurated in consequence of the carrying out of any peculiar party measures by this Republican Administration. A sufficient answer to such an assertion would be found in that the South had made war upon the Government while it was in Democratic hands What then does this Advertiser mean? Does it intend to say that because a Republican party exists in this country, that such a fact justifies rebellion—the making of intestine war—the raising of armies to put down the government? The Advertiser in so many words says "We do not blame the South for what she has done"—and the declaration is repeated, "WE BLAME THEM NOT"

The Advertiser thus declares itself the justifier of the South—in all her outrages—in all her murders—in all her attempts to break up the best government on earth—on the ground that the South does not like the principles of the Republican party It advances the doctrine that a minority party is not required to submit to the constitutional acts of the government, and is justified in raising rebellion and breaking up the government when the majority see fit to rule under the powers guaranteed to them by the Constitution

Let no man pretend to doubt the secession character of the Advertiser It declares in language intended to be emphatic "We do not blame the South for her efforts to break up the Union"

Eighth of January

The battle of New Orleans will ever fill a distinguished page in history It will send down to the remotest ages an evidence of the bravery of our countrymen and their heroic General, ANDREW JACKSON As in the field, so in the Cabinet was this great man distinguished There, he struck down the rebellion of Calhoun, uttering on that occasion the sentiment worthy of immortality

"The Union must be preserved without blood, if possible but it must be preserved at all hazards and at any cost"—ANDREW JACKSON.

The Overland Press says that as soon as miners can pass over the Cascades one-third of the male population of Puget Sound will move to the Salmon River mines

The Rebels Pressing Slaves into their Ranks

The rebel leaders finding that they cannot raise poor whites enough to meet the Union men, are pressing slaves into their ranks This is a desperate resort A poor white man with the rebels is of very little account—he is not fit to vote—ranks with them just above a slave—and if killed off is not very much regretted but a slave if killed in the war, takes from somebody's pocket the precious sum of some fifteen hundred dollars We may therefore judge of the condition of the rebels by this measure With them it must be about the last resort How easy would it be to induce the slaves into whose hands arms are placed, "to strike for liberty?"

Of course the secession press will not condemn the arming of slaves to fight against the Union, but they will denounce beyond measure the declarations of the great democratic leaders that such a measure must be met by the emancipation of the slaves. Their sympathies are always with the rebellion and against the Union

We commend to the attention of all loyal citizens the following extract from the last Washington letter of J W Simonton to the San Francisco Bulletin

"Within the last few days we have trustworthy intelligence that there are at Manassas, in the rebel service, several complete companies of negroes, uniformed, armed and equipped and commanded by negro officers. From another source we learn that the work of impressing the slaves into the military service of the rebels is now being prosecuted with vigor throughout the seceded States. Such facts as these tend to reconcile even the most conservative men of the North to the employment of the slaves in the armies of the Union, and if we should be disappointed in our hope that the campaign of this winter and next spring will put an end to the rebellion and re-establish the Government, by early June next I for one expect to see emancipation as a war measure proclaimed by law from the National Capital. God forbid that the seeming necessity for such a policy should ever arise The rebellion in any aspect has begun the work of rapid emancipation—a work that never henceforth can be stayed until the domestic institution shall be lifted from the face of our nation. But better far will it be for both white and black if the process shall be permitted to follow its own gradual though surely effective course in which both races will become accustomed to the new condition of affairs. But these are strange times, and the wisest cannot foresee with certainty the precise character of momentous events with which the near future is big"

Olympia Correspondence

OLYMPIA, Jan 2, 1862

We had a glorious New Year's day Splendid weather, and open houses generally by our citizens Much calling was done, and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves The feature of the day was the reception, at the Surveyor General's Office Dr Henry and his subordinates with their respective ladies received calls at the Office, making a sumptuous set out in the way of eatables which appeared to be duly appreciated by the many visitors A ball at Washington Hall concluded the celebration of the day.

In the evening, the Enterprise reached here on her return from the dedication of the new University at Seattle An eloquent address was made by Prof A B Mercer, now in charge of the Academical department Appropriate remarks were also made by Hon Paul K. Hubbs of the Council Joint Committee, and Rev B C Lippincott A ball also was given by the Seattle Brass Band, in honor of the occasion which was largely attended, and was a spirited affair

By the accompanying report of the Commissioners of the University it appears that of the two townships of forty six thousand and eighty acres reserved by Congress as University lands about thirty thousand acres had been selected, and enough sold to realize a fund of over thirty thousand dollars which has been exhausted in the erection of the buildings, the grounds of which will have been expended before the University is completed, will not fall short of thirty-five thousand dollars. Whether the legislature will approve of this remains to be seen. While all speak well of the building and commend the energy of the Commissioners, many doubt the propriety of so reducing at present the very liberal donation of the Government It is to be hoped that such a use will be made of the school that its great cost will appear to have warranted the acts of the last Legislative Assembly in frittering away the substantial benefits designed by Congress in making this reservation

Hon H L Caples Councilman from Clark appeared in his seat this morning Simms of Walla Walla is looked for daily

Very little of importance transpired today in the Council except passing a resolution to go into joint convention to elect a Public Printer on Monday next The House concurred in this resolution

In the House Messrs Arnold, Clark, Smith and Johnson of Walla Walla and Merrill of Cowlitz appeared and claimed their seats. Mr Johnson is of the Walla Walla Delegation He was not elected what is known as the Shoshone ticket Smith was elected on the Shoshone ticket When the matter is regularly presented to the House I will allude more particularly to the question of contest Several unimportant leaf and ferry bills were introduced, referred, and passed.

QUID NUNC

From Umpqua.

FORT UMPQUA, O. T., Dec. 12th 1861

EDITOR OREGONIAN

We have had the greatest freshet in the Umpqua river ever known As our mails have been entirely cut off we do not know here how great the damage is above a point about twelve miles beyond the town of Scottsburgh but all the dwelling houses barns rails and produce of every description [illegible] location, the entire country has been devastated by the element The water has been from ten to fifteen feet higher at Scottsburgh than the freshet of 1853, which was then higher than ever before in the memory of the oldest Indians As far as we can learn, the farmers above Scottsburgh have absolutely nothing left By the register kept at the Hospital at Fort Umpqua, there had been up to the 3d December, twenty-five inches of continued rain, since that period it has been augmented to over thirty inches The river rose very rapidly from the 30th November to the 3d December then subsided for a day or two and then rose again until the 9th December

Dec 14th—The river is now falling and has been for two days We still have no mail The bridges and ferries are all gone Lord & Peters' store at Scottsburgh, with many of the houses at upper town are gone, the new warehouse of Maury & Kruse, at lower town, was swept (with all of the merchandise stored therein) about twenty miles down the river, and strange to relate landed right side up with care just below the wharf at Gardiner Nearly all of the contents are undamaged Allan & McKinlay's wharf and store cont at lower town, are swept away.

A detachment of California Volunteers having arrived from Fort Hoskins to garrison this post just before the first freshet Lieut Wright Hayes and the detachment of 3d Artillery stationed here, started on the 20th November to go overland to Vancouver and having reached the first ferry above Scottsburgh, found it impossible to proceed and after some delay attempted to return, but could not bring their wagons; so they constructed a boat, and on the 10th December the Lieutenant with a Corporal and the Corporal's wife and two or three other persons came down over the rapids to Scottsburgh after a short but perilous voyage The rest of the soldiers, excepting Sergeant D Oppenheimer and his wife, came down over the mountain sides It was intended that Sergt Oppenheimer should wait until the pilot of the Lieutenant's boat should return by land with his oars to Scottsburgh but after the first boat had left a man named Wells offered his services to the Sergeant and upon the representations of the citizens there about was accepted as boatman by the Sergeant, who with his wife and baggage began their journey to Scottsburgh They crossed the first and most dangerous of the rapids safely but coming to the second, the boat was capsized and all were thrown into the water The boatman secured a bundle of bedding the Sergeant caught an oar, and Mr Oppenheimer, though at first over twenty feet from the Sergeant, gained his side and caught hold of his overcoat collar In this hazardous condition they drifted down two miles—opposite Scottsburgh—where the boatman was picked up, while a boat went out to rescue the Sergeant and wife, but, alas! too late came the relief They were drawn into a kind of suck, and Mrs Oppenheimer relinquished her hold either from exhaustion or fear of drowning her husband with her, and was never seen afterwards The Sergeant was barely saved Efforts are being made to recover the body of the lost woman but up to the present writing without success

NEW VIEWS—The London Quarterly Review thus speculates on the American war—"To think that it would be for the safety of British interests on the other side of the Atlantic that the United States should be split into two rival nations, is, as we humbly think, the reverse of far seeing. As hereto reconstituted the States, though able to repel any invasion in the long run, were perfectly harmless as to foreign war They might wrangle about a ruin like Mexico, but they had no army worthy of which a military power need fear in the least They could not invade anything except where as in Mexico, there was nobody with nothing to defend. But if two rival nations be formed both must be military powers and both must be naval powers. It would be hard on our North American [illegible] other on our West Indian possessions The [illegible] will desire Cuba; the other must have the West Indies In Europe [illegible] Russia must keep [illegible] [illegible] and were two great military States placed on our transatlantic frontier we must prepare for a new scale of [illegible] [illegible] and for new and frequent [illegible] arms

CITY.

MILITARY.—Col. Cornelius has just received by express two large cases of Army Regulations, Regimental and Company Books, Muster Rolls, &c., ordered at Washington by Major Drew, for the 1st regiment Oregon Cavalry. This indicates that our regiment is regarded at the War Department as a fixed fact. We shall look for the arrival of funds soon to pay the present liabilities of the regiment, and for its future support. Colonel C. has directed Major Drew to proceed to San Francisco on the next steamer to make requisition at the Headquarters of the Department of the Pacific for all the arms, clothing, camp equipage, &c., to which the regiment is entitled, and to superintend their immediate shipment.

The companies at Salem, Vancouver and the Dalles are steadily filling up and will soon have their complement. At Jacksonville, Col. Maury has mustered two companies already, and will soon have two more. He thinks that if necessary, he can raise the fifth—all south of the Calapooia mountains. The two companies at Jacksonville, Capts. Harris and Truax, and Hardings' at Salem, will be ready for service as soon as they receive their arms, clothing and camp equipage.

MAIL PER CORTES.—Postmaster Davis informs us that he will dispatch a letter mail to San Francisco and the Atlantic States, and a paper mail to San Francisco only, on the steamer Cortes which sails to-day.

COULD NOT AGREE.—The jury on the Oro Fino mining case after being out all night returned into Court yesterday morning and informed the Court that they were unable to agree upon a verdict.

Dr. Glenn has returned, and having received a large stock of Dental material, is on hand at his office ready to execute all orders in his profession.

FROM OLYMPIA.—We learn that a bill was passed for re-districting the Territory. Mr. Smith was admitted to a seat in the House, from Walla Walla. A joint resolution to go into the election of printer on Monday, passed both houses; also to assume and pay the taxes imposed by the General Government on the Territory. Mr. Griswold's Union resolutions were handsomely passed.

It has been discovered that Capt. C. H. Gordon, Treasurer of Vancouver Island Colony, is a defaulter to the Colony and to the Industrial Society, some £600, and he has been arrested with his clerk, H. B. Campbell, and put in prison. Their trials were pending at the last dates from Victoria.

☞ The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. L. J. CZAPKAY is already secured in a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the assaults of envy and professional malice. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in this department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally lofty position in the profession. Ricord is an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of his age in Europe, and Dr. Czapkay has fully equalled him in this country; as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honorary ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for more extended labors, Dr. L. J. Czapkay has bent his earnest attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at his Medical and Surgical Institute, on Sacramento street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask particular attention of our readers to the sworn certificates of remarkable cures in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to lose time in corresponding, please enclose $10 in their letters and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPKAY, M. ☞ Coughs.—The sudden changes of our climate are sources of PULMONARY, BRONCHIAL, and ASTHMATIC AFFECTIONS. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should at once be had to "Brown's Bronchial Troches," or Lozenges, let the Cold, Cough, or Irritation of the Throat be ever so slight, as by this precaution a more serious attack may be effectually warded off. PUBLIC SPEAKERS and SINGERS will find them effectual for clearing and strengthening the voice. See advertisement.

Yankee Books South

The Richmond Dispatch of Nov. 20th is much afflicted about the sale of Yankee books. It says:

We are informed by one of our principal publishers that the demand for Yankee books is not affected by the war, and that a few days ago he had an order for a considerable number of a Yankee arithmetic, although his shelves are filled with a work by an eminent Southern scholar, which is confessed to be the best in the language.

There was one sentiment in the first letter of Prince Napoleon from this country which filled us with dismay. He freely expressed in this letter his estimate of the [illegible] the North had [illegible] to subjugate the South. But he added that, in his opinion, after the war the trade would resume its usual channels. [illegible] [illegible] — [illegible] the North — [illegible] to look to the North [illegible] his education [illegible] what [illegible] it is [illegible].

What a war will it require to wean the people from dependence upon the North! Before it [illegible] that the priceless blood already shed should have been shed in vain. We have no [illegible] North in war; but [illegible] bondsmen [illegible] "hewers of wood and drawers of water," the structure of Southern independence will be subject to a test more severe and terrible than any which Scott or McClellan are able to apply.

As soon as this war is over, a Northern horde of salesmen will overrun the land, or come here to live, and vote down our interests at the polls. If we do not make provision in our laws to prevent these objects, Southern independence is an idle dream."

THE CAMPAIGN IN NORTHWESTERN VIRGINIA.—The Wheeling Intelligencer of November 21st, says:

It is understood that the troops of General Reynolds' command are being divided for active service in other quarters of the country. Our advices from Cheat Mountain are that several of the Ohio regiments are ordered, and are now on their way to Kentucky. Others, it is reported, will take up the line of march in a few days for General Kelley's headquarters at Romney, and in connection with the force already there, commence a forward movement to concert with an expected movement of the grand army of the Potomac.

The advance camp of General Reynolds, now holding the mountain pass, will retain their position, and will make themselves snug and comfortable and secure in their strongly intrenched block houses. The rebels who have heretofore threatened his advance have pretty much all dissipated away. Their own accounts of themselves, as ascertained in their captured letters are gloomy enough. Out of one thousand three hundred men in a body, not three hundred were fit for service.

No doubt their condition is deplorable. And it has been so ever since they came to Western Virginia. In the first place they found a different state of things from what they expected. They found a population who did not welcome them as deliverers; a people who had little or no sympathy with them. In the next place they found the elements against them. The storms and frosts and chills of Cheat Mountain were not by any means the balmy zephyrs of the South. At midsummer, even, their clothing did not suffice to protect them from suffering at night. Added to this their food was bad and scanty. They fell sick on it. And when they were taken down they had miserable attendance. They "died like sheep," as their doctor writes.

THE REBELLION.—The Statesman says: "The blows that have been struck along the Southern coast are well devised and effective, but they do not by any means end the war, or warrant the conclusion that the rebellion is in the agonies of death. It is an insurrection of gigantic proportions, and the holy work of crushing it out is hardly commenced. It cannot be performed in a day or a year. It is not to be consummated by the taking of seaports alone. It is only to be accomplished by hard fighting and through bloody battles—battles extending, in our opinion, through a series of years. The men who have conceived this conspiracy to destroy our government, believe they are the masters—the governing power upon this continent. And until they learn otherwise upon the ensanguined field no permanent peace is possible. Let us understand this, and enter anew upon the resolve to fight it out to the end of the rebellion and the restoration of the authority of the authority of the government, though it may require oceans of blood, tens of years, and trillions of treasure.

"Nail to the mast our starry flag;
Set every threadbare sail,
And give it to the tempest blast,
The lightning and the gale!"

A fellow having imbibed rather freely, took it into his head that he could fly, and to get a good position, ascended a sign post and started. He was questioned the next day as to how he liked flying. "Oh!" said he, "it's nothing to fly, the lighting is the hardest part of the operation."

"Friend, the Bible tells thee to swear not at all."

"Oh, well, I don't swear at all; I swear only at those I am mad at."

CZAPKAY, M.D., late in the Hungarian Revolutionary War; Chief Physician to the 20th Regiment of Honveds; Chief Surgeon to the Military Hospital of Pesth, Hungary; late Lecturer on Diseases of the Genito-Urinary Organs and Diseases of Women and Children, and Honorary Member of the Philadelphia College of Medicine.

Particular attention paid to the treatment of diseases peculiar to Women and Children.

Address, DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco.

Of all diseases the first great cause,
Springs from neglect of Nature's laws.

To the Afflicted:

Suffer not when a cure is guaranteed in all stages of secret disease—Self-Abuse, Nervous Debility, Syphilis in all its stages, Strictures, Gleet, Gravel, Diabetes, diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Mercurial Rheumatism, Scrofula, Pains in the Bones and Ankles, Diseases of the Lungs, Throat, Nose and Eyes, Ulcers upon the Body or Limbs, Cancers, Dropsy, Epileptic Fits, St. Vitus Dance and all diseases arising from a derangement of the sexual organs—such as Nervous Trembling, Loss of Memory, Loss of Power, General Weakness, Dimness of Vision with peculiar spots appearing before the eyes, Loss of Sight, Wakefulness, Dyspepsia, Liver Disease, Eruptions upon the Face, Pains in the Back and Head, Female Irregularities—and all improper discharges of both sexes. It matters not from what cause the disease originated, however long standing or obstinate the case, recovery is certain, and in a shorter time than a permanent cure can be effected by any other treatment, even after the disease has baffled the skill of eminent physicians and resisted all their means of cure. The medicines prescribed are pleasant without odor, entirely vegetable, causing no sickness and free from mercury or balsam. During fifteen years of practice in Europe the Atlantic States and [illegible] I have rescued from the jaws of death many thousands who in the last stages of the above-mentioned diseases had been given up to die by their physicians, which warrants me in promising to the afflicted, who may place themselves under my care a speedy and permanent cure. Private diseases are the greatest enemies to health, as they are the first cause of consumption, scrofula and many other diseases, and should be a terror to the human family. A permanent cure is scarcely ever effected—a majority of cases falling into the hands of incompetent persons, who not only fail to cure the disease, but ruin the constitution, filling the system with mercury, which, with the disease, hastens the sufferer into a rapid consumption. But should the disease and the treatment not cause death speedily, and the victim marries, the disease is entailed upon the children, who are born with feeble constitutions and the current of life corrupted by a virus which betrays itself in scrofula, tetter, ulcers, eruptions and other affections of the skin, eyes, throat and lungs, entailing upon them a brief existence of suffering, and consigning them to an early grave.

Self-abuse is another formidable enemy to health, for nothing else in the dread catalogue of human diseases causes so destructive a drain upon the system—drawing its thousands of victims through a few years of suffering down to an untimely grave. It destroys the nervous system, rapidly wastes away the energies of life, causes mental derangement, prevents the proper development of the system, disqualifies for marriage, society, business and all earthly happiness, and leaves the sufferer wrecked in body and mind, predisposed to consumption and a train of evils more to be dreaded than death itself. With the fullest confidence I assure the unfortunate victims of self-abuse that a permanent and speedy cure can be effected, and with the abandonment of ruinous practices my patients can be restored to robust, vigorous health.

Invalids, Ladies and Gentlemen, Females and families treated on principles established by fifteen years of practice and sanctioned by thousands of the most remarkable cures. Medicines with full directions sent to any part of the State, Oregon and Washington Territory, by patients communicating their symptoms by letter.

All business correspondence strictly confidential. Address DR. L. J. CZAPKAY'S Medical Institute, Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s Office, San Francisco.

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief

Below we publish the certificates of three of the sufferers from the pangs of disease, who, having recovered their former health and impelled by gratitude make known their cases and remedial agent, and their statement are authenticated by a Notary Public. The demands of so, etc. imperatively command their publicity and we command their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of acquainting those who may be unfortunate enough to be similarly afflicted where a permanent relief of their sufferings may be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his most sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the permanent recovery of his health. Borne down by the distressing symptoms incident to the vicious practices of uncontrollable passion in youth, depressed in body and mind, unable [illegible] even the most trifling duty imposed upon the ordinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of many physicians, who at first considered my disease as of trifling importance, [illegible] weeks and in several instances months of [illegible] treatment, I found to my unutterable horror that instead of relief, my symptoms became more alarming [illegible], and being told by one that my disease [illegible] the brain, medicine would be of [illegible]. I despaired of ever regaining my health, strength [illegible]; and as a last resort, and with but a faint [illegible] called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicine which almost [illegible] the dull pain and dizziness in my head. [illegible] the result I resolved to place myself completely under his care, and by a strict obedience to all his directions and advice, my head became clear, and my [illegible] the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the misanthropy and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapacity to study, and want of resolution, the frightful [illegible] and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact, in two months after having consulted the doctor I felt as if inspired by a new life—that life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that [illegible] under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 3d, 1860.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I feel very well except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called at your institute with my constitution as I thought, broken entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble at everything. Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery from those symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches from my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire stoppage of those emissions, which you said were principally the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is the greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except not having fully got my strength I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your charge, and think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody will be benefited you may put this letter in the newspapers. I remain, gratefully yours, THOMAS HAYDEN.

Thankfulness is the incentive to gratitude.

[illegible] prompted by an honest desire of my heart, I wish to lay before the public a case which deserves a commendation not only as an act of scientific skill but that of humanity also. About two years ago I suddenly, and from [illegible] was seized with a fit of epilepsy, which owing to my inability to meet the expenses consequent upon [illegible] treatment, and the discouragement [illegible] without attempting it even, because such [illegible] to defy the skill of any physician. I was frequently, while in pursuit of my calling, [illegible] the ground without the slightest warning, and [illegible] the agonies I yet despised the [illegible] and soon learned to look upon them [illegible] from danger as once [illegible] the existence of my infliction. When [illegible] having previous to my affliction [illegible] was induced to attempt seeking [illegible] by recommendation, called upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my circumstances, [illegible] him for his services, regardless of which [illegible] my case, and with the blessing of God I am once more restored to perfect health. [illegible] for the favor which I enjoy at [illegible] I consider it [illegible] to make the case public, [illegible] may find a physician [illegible] place?
